Orchestra

The Millikin University orchestra, under the direction of Harold Clyde Hess and Mr. Jose Echaniz as guest conductor, has done some very outstanding work this year. In the fall two young high school students—Ruth Rink, violinist, and Joan Walraven, pianist—were presented as soloists with the orchestra. Mr. Hess conducted for the violin number and Mr. Echaniz for the piano number. One interesting feature of the program was a number by Desenberg of Chicago. Mr. Desenberg attended the concert and was well pleased with the orchestra's interpretation of his composition.

The program on March 26 consisted of the "Concerto in G Minor" by Mendelssohn, played by Jane Larsen, pianist, with the orchestra; Vieuxtemp's "Fourth Concerto in D Minor," played by Veva June Appel, violinist, with the orchestra; the Overture to "Merry Wives of Windsor" by Nicolai; and an original composition by Walter Emch, conservatory faculty member, played by the orchestra.

A Capella Choir

The A Capella choir, under the direction of Grant Hadley, is composed not only of conservatory students but also of any university students who are interested in choral work. The choir's singing has contributed much to the college chapel programs. This spring, rather than give an opera, the choir gave a concert in combination with the Madrigals and advanced voice students, using excerpts from operas as its numbers. The group performed at the Y. W. C. A. vespers and for the City Panhellenic vespers.

Jose Echaniz

Jose Echaniz, internationally known pianist, completed his third year as head of the piano department of the Millikin Conservatory of Music this year. His annual concert here has become a musical highlight for Decatur and surrounding cities.
In addition to his teaching duties and public appearances, Senor Echaniz has appeared as guest conductor of the Millikin orchestra, and he has been regular conductor of the Decatur Civic Symphony. His concert engagements this year have included the following:

November 8—Decatur concert at Millikin auditorium.
January 28—Sioux City, Iowa, as soloist with Sioux City Symphony.
March 18—Springfield, Missouri.
March 20—Wichita Falls, Texas.
March 26—Returned to Millikin to conduct the J. M. U. orchestra.
April 8—Fall River, Massachusetts.
April 11—Waukegan, Illinois, in joint recital with Jeanette Vreeland.

Madrigal Singers

The Madrigals is a double quartet organized this year. The group was composed of Virginia Bolin and Edith McCollister, sopranos; Louise Bredehoft and Beulah May, contraltos; Perrine Thompson and John Norman, tenors; and Kenneth Hennessy and Alan Easterling, basses. They have given several programs in Decatur this year.
During the course of the year the Madrigals have also appeared in Springfield at the Governor's Mansion and before the Woman's Club, and at Mt. Pulaski.

Formal Recitals

Several outstanding recitals have been given this year by the conservatory students. Jane Larsen, pianist, gave a recital in November. In the spring she was soloist with the university orchestra. Jane is a sophomore in the conservatory, and her performances have been of special interest to Decatur audiences since she is a Decatur girl. Zelna Lucas, pianist, gave her junior recital in January. Zelna's home is in Kewanee, Illinois, and she attended Bradley Polytechnic Institute her freshman year.

In May, Dorothy Bayless, soprano, and Dewitt Mancell, baritone, gave a joint recital. Dorothy is a senior, and Dewitt is a graduate of the conservatory. Both are well-known singers. Veva June Appel, violinist, was presented as one of the soloists in the spring concert given by the orchestra. Veva June is also from Edwardsville, and is popular with Decatur audiences.

Informal Recitals

Each Friday afternoon at 4:30 a student recital was held in Kaeuper Hall. These short, interesting programs were free of charge and all Millikin students, faculty members and townspeople were invited to attend. The recitals were presented for the purpose of helping music students gain poise and self-assurance before appearing before larger, more formal audiences. Three or four students appeared on each afternoon program.

Panhellenic also sponsored the Inter-fraternity Sing on March 22, an event which promises to become a Millikin tradition. The annual scholarship banquet on April 9 at the Decatur Club honored high scholarship among women on the campus; the guests of honor were one woman from each class with the highest scholarship, and the highest from each woman's Greek-letter organization. Miss Davida McCaslin was the speaker at the banquet, and Mrs. Hessler and Mrs. Hess also sat at the speakers' table.

The German Club was formed in December, 1934, by a group of German language students interested in the promotion of the study of German conversation and the customs of the country.

Founders of the club invited all first and second year German students interested in the club to a Christmas meeting at the home of Mary Frances Wood, this meeting being planned to stimulate membership in the club.
Meetings during the year have been held once a month at the homes of the various members; discussion has been on German art, customs and music. Henry Kroeger, Decatur artist, was a guest speaker at one of the art discussions, and at another Miss Ruth Menzell presented "Customs at Christmas Time."

The second week of school was set aside by Y. W. for the purpose of helping freshmen women become acquainted with Millikin students and campus life. The Y. W. walkout tea, and vesper service in addition to the regular weekly meeting made up the program for the week.

The theme for the first semester was "To realize a full and creative life." A study of the way in which Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John realized this life, was made. The speakers were the Rev. Mr. C. W. Flewelling, Miss Esther Biggs, the Rev. Dr. Johnson, and Miss Davida McCaslin. The third meeting of each month was a discussion centering around the preceding talks.

Monthly meetings were held the second semester, according to the following plan: February—Hymnology; March—The great religious art, by Mrs. Hessler; April—Religious drama, by Mrs. McNabb; and May—Philosophy, by Dr. Melrose.

An inter-collegiate conference was attended at Bradley, February 16 and 17, by Annabel McKinney and Roberta Beck. Easter retreats and vesper services were held. During May Y. W. gave the annual May breakfast and sponsored Geneva Tag day.

Vice-President..... Velma Allen
Treasurer..... Lois Holmes
Secretary.....Nancy Hedrick
Advisors.....Dr. Stark, Miss Wiley

The Home Economics Club, one of the first of its kind in the U. S., was organized in December, 1919. It not only enables the students of the department to keep up with the advances in home economics but it also fosters development of leadership and programs along lines which supplement the work in classes.

Regular bi-monthly meetings were held, this year's theme being "Vocations open to home economics-trained women." The club was unusually fortunate in having Dr. Margaret Hessler Brookes of Chicago, who spoke on "Nutrition Work with the Emergency Relief," and Miss Eloise Cleveland of the Cotton Textile Institute of New York City, who spoke to the club and presented a fashion show to the students of the university.

The Millikin club is affiliated with the American and with the Illinois Home Economics Associations. This year ten members attended the state meeting in Springfield, and delegates will be sent to the national meeting in June. Rita Kell represented the club at the national meeting in New York City last June; Lois Betzer is state chairman of student clubs and Dr. Stark is state advisor for the Illinois clubs.

Town and Gown

Three major productions were presented again this year by the Town and Gown Players under the direction of Professor L. C. McNabb. Each play enjoyed tremendous success and played before a capacity audience in the university auditorium.

"The Late Christopher Bean" was the play chosen for Homecoming weekend, and presented Katherine Stadler in the leading woman's role. Other important roles were taken by Arthur Metzler and Lelah Rotz. This play was repeated in April for the entertainment of visiting high school seniors from Decatur and Central Illinois, the same cast in their original parts.

Henrik Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" was presented March 15 and 19 with the capable Miss Stadler again in the leading role. Other parts were taken by Otto R. Kyle, Margaret Clark, Lynn Woolen, Roger Sparks, Miss Jessie Lockett and Emily Jane Wood.

For the third consecutive year, the Town and Gown Players produced a Shakespeare play during commencement week. In 1933 the production was "Much Ado About Nothing"; last year "The Merchant of Venice" played five performances; and the drama chosen for 1935 was "The Taming of the Shrew".

Second row: R. Grissom, Schroeder, R. Russell, McNabb.
First row: Brown, Benson, Robinson.

Debate Squad

The debate squad was reorganized this year after a year's interval in which there had been no organized debates. A series of meetings have been held this year, all of which were non-decision affairs. Prof. L. C. McNabb coached the squad, with Dr. Robinson as his assistant.

Debates this year were with Charleston, Greenville and Jacksonville. Members of the squad were: Wayne Schroeder, Paul Brown, Robert Grissom, Raymond Russell, Frank Benson and William Beck.

Verse Speaking Choir

The Millikin Verse Speaking Choir enjoyed its second very successful year under the capable leadership of Mrs. L. C. McNabb. A recital was given in Kaeuper Hall in May. The group was composed this year of a well-balanced membership of harmonious voices, several of which had the advantage of a year's previous experience. In order to explain the exact nature of a speaking choir, Mrs. McNabb has arranged it into these words: "It is group re-creation of poetry or prose in which the principal emphasis is placed on the mood and the rhythm. The nature of the selection decides whether it will be given individual, antiphonal, or choral treatment. The group works in three pitch levels, the blending of the overtones producing an orchestral effect." Miss Davida McCaslin acted as advisor as well as an outstanding member of the choir.

Fraternities

Second row: Langham, Davis, Langelier, Roth, Larsen, Beck, Bennett, Fraser, Livesay.

Alpha Chi Omega

Founded:

National—Depauw University, 1885
Local—Upsilon, 1913
Flower—Red Carnation
Colors—Olive green and scarlet
Badge—Gold lyre

Alpha Chi Omega won the cup at Homecoming this year with their clever idea for chapter house decorations. The house was transformed into "Ye Olde Millik Inn." An English inn with a thatched roof and a stagecoach in the foreground made a very realistic setting.

Roberta Beck was co-editor of the Millidek, vice-president of Y. W. and a member of the Student cabinet. Mary Louise Doake represented the senior class on the Millidek staff. Mary Donovan and Margaret Ellen Smith are also on the year-book staff. Mary Johnson and Betty Bennet represented Alpha Chi in Panhellenic.
Activities for the year have included an unusual Thanksgiving Sweetheart Dinner, a pledge dance Nov. 1 and a Christmas party. The initiation dance took place March 2. May 18 was the date selected for the spring formal.

Johnnie Heinlein was football captain last fall; both he and Joe Rolinaitis were placed on the all-conference teams, and Rolinaitis received the Most Valuable Player award for the outstanding football performance in the Little Nineteen Conference. Joe was also captain of the basketball team. Ed Clauter was business manager of the Millidek and a member of the Student Cabinet. Brud Folrath was freshman treasurer and Forrest Kyle was athletic publicity director for the university; Kyle was also sports editor of both the Millidek and the Decaturian. Fred Newton and Harold Sanks were football and basketball managers, respectively, and Ed Clauter and Bud Lewis have served as cheer leaders.

To the national convention at Washington, D. C., Bud Lewis was chosen as delegate from this chapter, and was accompanied by Harold Sanks and Clarence Mitchell of the active chapter. Ten pledges were initiated at the province initiation at the LeVere Memorial Temple at Evanston on March 8.

The Tekes started the year by winning the tin loving cup presented by Alpha Omega for the best stunt at the Millikin Mixer and placing second in the Homecoming House Decoration contest. Maurice Murfin and Royce Huss were elected senior and sophomore class presidents respectively. Wayne Schroeder was elected president of Alpha Omega and is a member of the student cabinet of which Ray Adams is a member and Robert Linn is chairman. Elmer Fawley, Art Wells, and Everett Schlie are members of Alpha Omega. Fawley was given a berth on the first string squad of the Little Nineteen mythical eleven and Everett Schlie served as intra-mural manager and as a member of the athletic board. The Tekes maintained the highest scholastic average among the fraternities and Wayne Schroeder was presented a Kappa Key. A September rushing dance opened the Teke social season and was followed by a harvest dance in November and the annual Christmas formal. They were among the first to entertain on the schedule of university teas. Spring events included a dinner dance and a May breakfast.

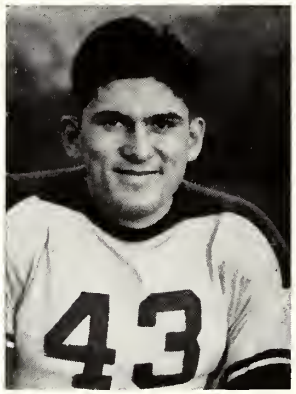
EX-CAPTAIN HEINLEIN CARRIES THE BALL

Hailed as one of the greatest football teams ever to play under the guidance of Coach Leo T. Johnson, the 1934 James Millikin grid eleven finished its season as undefeated co-champions of the Illinois College conference and was generally conceded to be the class of the conference.

Braced by one of the best reserve squads of several years, the Big Blue juggernaut swept over all its opposition, with the exception of Illinois Wesleyan, where the gridiron was a quadmire and the Titans were able to hold Millikin to a scoreless tie. Johnny Heinlein, scrappy little senior halfback from Chicago, was captain of the team.

Praised by one coach as "the best coached team" he had met all season, the Big Blue relied, for the most part, on straight football tactics for its victories. The players had tricky, difficult plays at their command, to be sure, and they were responsible for many big gains and several touchdowns. But Millikin was essentially a team that played straight football well.



CHRISTMAN, CAPTAIN-ELECT

In Captain Johnny Heinlein, Elmer Fawley and Carl Burgener, Coach Johnson had three clever jack-rabbit backs who could pick out holes, get through them, and keep going out in the open. Heinlein and Burgener, a freshman, furnished most of the fireworks the first half of the season while Fawley was the whole show during the last four games. He scored eight touchdowns in four games, many of them coming after long runs, and was a constant threat to opposing teams. Burgener and Heinlein were both fast and hard runners.

Upon two freshmen, Steve Lenich and Ralph Allen, fell the job of blocking, and it goes without saying, they seldom missed a cue. To these two went a great deal of credit for making possible the spectacular runs of the backs. Earl Weise, sophomore fullback, held down fullback duties in fine style. He divided kicking and passing duties with Heinlein and found plenty of time to do his share of line plunging and blocking. Roy Hindman, another freshman back, gave several impressive performances. Paul Lipinski and Earl Freeman were other blocking backs.

While the flashy work of the backfield showed the brightest, the line slowly built up a record that was unmatched in the conference. Lake Forest was the only loop team to cross the Big Blue's goal. Rose Poly and Ripon each scored once and all three touchdowns came as the result of passes. It just wasn't any use to try to run past the forwards.

The line was blanked by the two great sophomore ends—Bill Giraitis and Loyle Davis. The two mighty first team tackles were Fred Christman and Nick Gilbert. Competent reserves for the tackle berths were Mellroy Ross and Frank Courtright. "Automatic Joe" Rolinaitis, place-kicking star, and Don Lauher were the guards and Walter Rademacher held down the center position. Chief assistants in the middle of the line were Gordon Heggie, George Baima, Frank Russell and Don Steins. Herman Mehmken, 1934 letter-winner, saw little service because of a knee injury.

Millikin opened its season against Wheaton college under the lights on the J. M. U. field and won in a romp, 41 to 0. It was largely an experimental game for Coach Johnson and he got much information that proved valuable as the season wore on. The Blue went to Charleston the next Saturday and walloped the Teachers, 30 to 0. Heinlein and Burgener scored two touchdowns each and the Weise-to-Giraitis passing combination clicked several times, once to allow Bill to score a touchdown.

The game at Wesleyan, played in a continual downpour, was a heartbreaker for the Millikin eleven to tie. The heavy footing stopped the light J. M. U. backs and the halftime gun stopped a sure Big Blue touchdown on the three yard line.

The fighting Irish of St. Viator lived up to their name in the Homecoming scrap and Weise's pass to Burgener, who made a beautiful leaping catch behind the Viator defense, accounted for the only score of the game.

Millikin found itself trailing Ripon 6 to 0 at the end of the first quarter but blocked punts and brilliant running by Fawley gave the Johnsonites a 26 to 6 triumph.
At Lake Forest the Blue scored seven points in every quarter to turn back Ralph Jones's eleven, 28 to 6. Fawley again ran wild while Giraitis snatched a pass for a touchdown and Rolinaitis booted four perfect extra points.

With its title claim hinging on the Bradley game, Millikin went to work after a slow first quarter and rushed over three touchdowns in the second period to salt away the game. Fawley plunged over the first, ran 65 yards for the second, and Weise plunged the third. Fawley counted again in the final period on the lateral from Lenich.

The final game with Rose Poly was a regular track meet. Fawley had touchdown runs of 75, 70, and 32 yards; Burgener raced 70 and 59 yards for counters; Heinlein made 24 and 11 yard trips over the goal, while Davis, Matthews and Lenich counted one each.

Gold footballs were awarded to twenty players after the season while Heinlein, Fawley, Rolinaitis, Ross, Christman, Rademacher, Lauher, Giraitis, Davis, Gilbert, Weise, Courtright, Burgener, Allen, Lenich and Hindman received letters and sweaters.

According to figures compiled by the Associated Press, Millikin was the third highest scoring team in the nation, getting 228 points. The scoring was well divided between twelve players, a fact that undoubtedly accounted for the success of the season. Points scored were as follows: Fawley 48, Weise 37, Heinlein 36, Burgener 36, Davis 18, Rolinaitis 17, Giraitis 12, Matthews, Lenich, Hindman and Christman 6. Weise tied for second in the conference scoring race with 31 points. Heinlein, Fawley and Burgener tied for eighth with four loop touchdowns. Heinlein, Rolinaitis, Fawley, Christman, Giraitis, and Davis, were mentioned on various all-star teams.

The 1934 eleven was the fifth undefeated conference team Leo Johnson has coached in eleven years. Wayne "Hank" Gill was of course Leo's right hand man, during the year.

Fred Newton Jr. was senior manager and was assisted by Dale Bell, Brud Folrath and Dick Huff.

Fred Christman, tackle from Assumption, Illinois, was elected captain of the 1936 team at the All-Sports banquet. Christman succeeds Johnny Heinlein.

Second row: Hallihan, Musso, Cox, Van Ausdal, Spilman.
First row: Goldman, Coach Leo Johnson, Glynn.

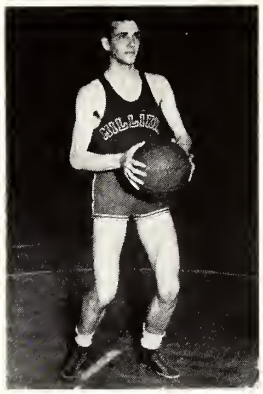
JOE ROLINAITIS
Captain



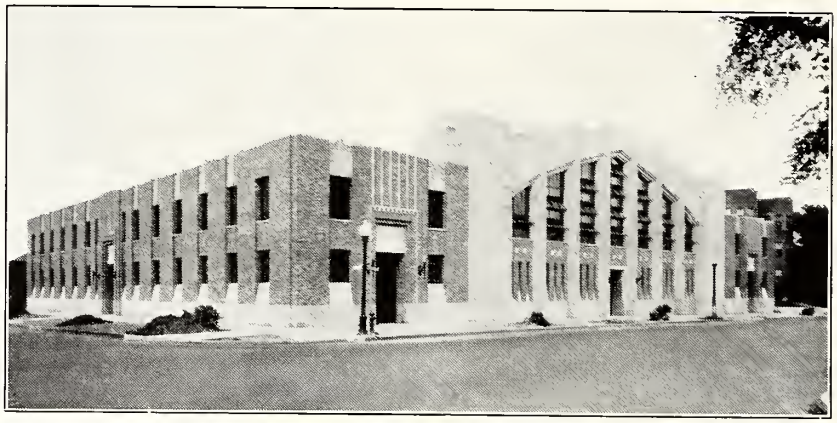
MELVIN GOLDMAN
Captain-elect

For the second consecutive basketball season James Millikin was represented by one of the strongest, highest scoring cage teams in Illinois. The fact that the Big Blue finished seventh in the Illinois College Conference race is no dull reflection on the record established by the Johnsonites. They were good, but, like any athletic team, were decidedly "off" on a couple of nights and just couldn't hit the basket. The conference race, too, was much tougher. Where Millikin lost three loop tilts this year and finished seventh, last year they lost four and finished fifth.

The Big Blue had a perfect season against non-conference foes. In the first game of the season the Arkansas Aggies were drubbed 46 to 26. The Southeastern State Teachers of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, were thumped handily 55 to 35 and the last non-conference foe to fall was the strong University of Nebraska quintet, 36 to 35.

As was the case a year ago, much of the success of the team during 1934-35 was due to the high scoring ability of Delmar Cox, six foot four center from Rossville, Illinois. Cox was a better ball player this year than last, looping 70 field goals and 44 free throws for 184 points. Of this total 140 were scored in the nine conference games to give the lanky sophomore second place in the loop scoring race. His greatest individual feat was scoring 25 points against St. Viator. In four other games he scored 20 points or more.

Millikin opened the season against the Arkansas Aggies, winning out 46 to 26. It was a bad break for the Big Blue that the Illinois College game followed so closely. Football season had just closed and the players had had only a minimum amount of practice. As a result Lasiter, Winn and Co. took a 31 to 28 decision from Millikin. A week later the locals proved just what might have happened with a little more practice when Cape Girardeau was walloped 55 to 35.



NATIONAL GUARD ARMORY

Although the final score was 36 to 35, Millikin's conquest of Nebraska U. was much more decisive. The Big Blue held a comfortable lead at the half and it was not until the last minutes that a frantic Cornhusker rally closed the gap between the scores. Millikin won its first conference game from Bradley at Peoria, 43 to 29. While the Blue held but a narrow 19 to 13 lead at the end of the first half, the second twenty minutes was a rout with Coach Johnson's block and out-of-bound plays working to perfection.

The Northern State Teachers of DeKalb, defending conference champions, were the next victims. It was largely through the work of Mel Goldman that the Blue was able to sneak out with a win. Goldie fired in three field goals in the closing minutes to assure a 35 to 21 triumph.

The next Millikin victory was one of the sweetest of the season. Illinois Wesleyan came down to the Armory and put in forty very bewildering minutes. The final score was 49 to 32 for Millikin. It was the most complete rout a Big Blue team had handed Wesleyan in many years.

Illinois College defeated Millikin for the second time of the year at Jacksonville, 44 to 37. Millikin led 30 to 28 at one time during the game. Four of the Big Blue players went out of the game on personal fouls, and as a result the final minute saw Millikin with but four men on the floor.

St. Viator came to the Armory and bowed in defeat 48 to 41. Cox banged in 20 points as the Blue halted a late Irish rally and sailed to victory.

In one of the wildest scoring orgies in Millikin basketball history, Bradley Tech was smothered 58 to 17. Millikin led 21 to 5 at the half after holding a 15 to 0 lead at one time. The second half was a whirlwind affair with the sharpshooting Millikins tearing up and down the floor, scoring uncannily from any and all angles.

The Big Blue paid a visit to St. Viator and annexed another victory, 39 to 28, as Cox tossed in nine field goals and seven free throws for 25 points. A feature of the game was the fact that only four personal fouls were called on the Millikin players. The final game was a sad ending to a great season. With the shadowy jinx of the Wesleyan gym hanging over their heads, the Big Blue players just couldn't click against the Titans and dropped the final game of the season, 34 to 30.

Millikin scored 504 points during the season while opponents counted 383. The locals' average was 42 points per game while opponents averaged 31 and 11/12.

Melvin Goldman, captain-elect of the 1935-36 quintet, was second high scorer, getting 93 points. Goldie's greatest game was against Illinois Wesleyan at the Armory and when he fouled out of the battle along near the end, the spectators arose in a body and paid him one of the greatest tributes accorded a Millikin player in many years.

Jay Glynn was right on Goldie's heels, netting 89 points. Glynn, for the second year, proved to be one of the most aggressive players in the conference and was a constant threat with a "dead" ball long shot and tricky one-handers.

Captain Joe Rolinaitis counted 42 points from his guard position. He was ranked by Coach Johnson as one of the best guards in the conference and was always a steadying influence on the rest of the team when the going was hot.

Archie Van Ausdal and Walter Spilman divided up the other guard position. Both were clever guards and good shots.

Reserves who made up the remainder of the team were Al Musso, Bill Wright, Cecil Garriott, Dan Hallihan, Luther Marshall and Mike Bensko.

At the end of the season coaches of the conference voted Cox to a forward position on the All-Star team and a couple of weeks later he was third in a poll to determine the most valuable player in the conference.

Melvin Goldman was elected captain of the 1935-36 team at the All-Sports banquet held early in the spring. Goldman and Van Ausdal, both from Taylorville, will be the only senior regulars on the squad. Captain Joe Rolinaitis and Walter Spilman were the seniors on this year's team.

Baseball

The 1934 Millikin baseball team ended its season with a .500 average for all games played and with a record of three victories and five defeats in Illinois College conference competition.

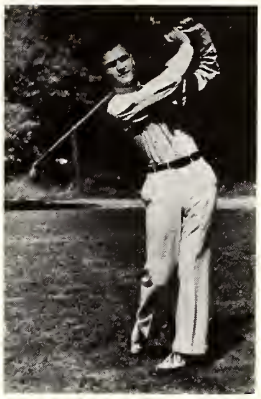
The nine was captained by Allen "Buddy" Russell, senior pitcher and first baseman. Russell not only led the Millikin batting attack with an average around .450 but also was high in the list of conference sluggers.

The Big Blue won its first conference game from Charleston, 12 to 11, in a weird affair that was not settled until the last inning when Dean Trainer, second highest of the Millikin hitters, rapped out his fifth hit of the game. Charleston was defeated later in the season, 8 to 3, while the other victory was gained over Eureka, 13 to 5, largely on the basis of an eight run attack in the first of the ninth inning.

Scores of conference games lost were: Eureka 12, Millikin 11; Wesleyan 7, Millikin 5; State Normal 8, Millikin 0; Wesleyan 19, Millikin 8; State Normal 7, Millikin 0.

Non-conference games found the Johnson nine whipping Concordia of St. Louis twice, 7 to 6 and 5 to 4.

Herman Mehmken, George Baima and Russell handled the pitching assignments, while Trainer and Archie Van Ausdal took care of the catching. Other lettermen were Don Craig, second base; Eddie Clauter, shortstop; Bill Giraitis, third base; Paul Lipinski and Walter Spilman, outfielders.



JACK WRIGHT

Golf and Tennis

For the first time in several years Millikin was represented by a varsity golf and tennis team. Although the golfers did not have as full a season as the netters, they won two Nassau count matches from Illinois Wesleyan, and Jack Wright, No. 1 man on the team, tied for the Illinois College conference individual championship.

The golfers beat the Titans on the South Side Country club links in Decatur, 9 to 6. Wright and Forrest Kyle shot 77's to lead the Big Blue team to victory. At Bloomington, Wesleyan was defeated 9½ to 8½. Other members of the team were Bob Sanders, Karl Grohne, Jay Glynn and Melvin Goldman.

Wright tied for the conference title after an amazing comeback on the Monmouth Country club course. He shot a 38-39-77 in his morning round and then in the afternoon went out in 38. A blazing 32 on the in nine gave him a 147 total to tie for the title and also a share of the course record.

The tennis team broke even in eight matches. Members of the team were Eddie Majors, Dan Hallihan, Bill Wright, Junior Kohr, Duane Garver and Frank Henry. Following are the scores of the matches:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wesleyan | 4 | Millikin | 3 |
| Eureka | 4 | Millikin | 2 |
| Illinois College | 6 | Millikin | 1 |
| Millikin | 5 | Charleston | 1 |
| Millikin | 5 | Charleston | 1 |
| Millikin | 4 | Eureka | 2 |
| Millikin | 6 | Wesleyan | 0 |
| Illinois College | 4 | Millikin | 3 |

In the district tournament Eddie Majors advanced to the semi-finals before losing out. The Wright-Garver doubles team also advanced to the semi-final round before being eliminated.

"HANK" GILL

Intramural

The present Intramural system at Millikin was established by R. Wayne "Hank" Gill at the beginning of the 1932-33 college year as a branch of the physical education department, and for the third consecutive year it has served as a valuable addition to college life. It is the purpose of the department of Intramural Athletics to encourage the men of the student body to participate in competitive athletic sports and organized recreation.

Intramural athletics are divided into two leagues, namely, Inter-class and Inter-fraternity. All campus championships and inter-squad tournaments are also held for all students regardless of their competition in either of the leagues.

The director of intramural athletics, "Hank" Gill, was assisted this year by the following students: Intramural manager, Everett Schlie; publicity director, Forrest Kyle; Class managers, 1935—Alvin Eubanks, 1936—Bus Mitchell, 1937—William Beck, and 1938—Roy Corzine; fraternity managers, Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Harry Lewis and Frank Russell, Independents—Delmar Cox, Delta Sigma Phi—Walter Spilman, and Tau Kappa Epsilon—Gus Greanias.

Up to the spring vacation inter-class competition in four events had been finished. The freshmen won the indoor baseball and basketball tournament. The sophomores won the volleyball tournament, while Wallace Munsie gave the seniors first place in the indoor tennis singles.

Indees grabbed the lead in the fraternity competition and up to spring vacation had not relinquished it. They annexed first places in speed ball, indoor baseball, boxing and wrestling. The Tekes, in second place, won first in volleyball and basketball. At press time the S. A. E.'s were in third place and the Delta Sigs in fourth with diamond ball, tennis (singles and doubles), golf, track and horseshoes (singles and doubles) to be played.

Individual champions declared on the basis of fall and winter sports were as follows:

Golf—Forrest Kyle. Jim Freeman, second.

Tennis—Duane Garver. Sam Kohr, second.

Boxing—Results of championship bouts:

Heavyweight—Steve Lenich decisioned Bill Giraitis.
Middleweight—Paul Lipinski won from Roy Corzine.

W. A. A. is an organization for all women in Millikin who are interested in athletics. Its purpose is to create an atmosphere of sportsmanship in all athletic games; and, as a club, to give various social functions.

In the late spring of 1934 W. A. A. sponsored a dance recital by Ted Shawn and his Ensemble of Men Dancers. The money made from this exceptionally successful recital was used to finance the spring tennis meet which this organization has sponsored for several years.

This year W. A. A. presented medals to the winner and runner-up of the ping-pong tournament and to the members of the winning basketball team. Members of the club made flags of the various institutions in the Little Nineteen which were used to decorate the football field. In April the club gave a spring dance in the gymnasium.

Tennis

In the spring of 1934, W. A. A. again sponsored the Little Nineteen tennis tournament which was played on the Millikin courts. Fifteen colleges were represented, including Illinois State Normal, Carthage, Southern Illinois Normal, Illinois College, E. S. T. C., Shurtleff, Blackburn, Chicago Normal, Knox, Rockford, Monmouth, Eureka and Millikin.

Miss Bee Hightower of Carthage defeated Mrs. Dorothy Holt Kemp of Monmouth to retain her singles title, won in 1933. The doubles championship trophy was awarded to Miss Dorothy Slote and Miss Betty Kilburne of Carbondale.

The sensation of the tournament was the freshman singles player of Blackburn, Miss Wilma Perry, who was defeated by a very close margin by Mrs. Kemp in the semi-finals.

Millikin was represented by Virginia Baker and Maryhelen Vannier, doubles; Hazel Nichols and Muriel White, doubles; and Jean White, singles. This annual tennis tournament is one of the outstanding athletic events of Millikin. (See page 114.)

Basketball

The annual basketball tournament among the women's social organizations was played the last two weeks in February. Five teams were entered in the tournament, the Theta U's and the Zetas uniting to form a single team.

The Independents defeated the Tri-Delts in the final game to win the tournament. Each player on the winning team was awarded a medal by W. A. A. Hazel Nichols of the Theta-Zeta team, and Lois Crawford of the Tri-Delts, were awarded medals for being the most valuable players to their respective teams.

Miss Helen Ruth Chodat,
The 1935 Millidek,
James Millikin Univereity,
Decatur, Illinois.

Dear Miss Chodat:

I have finally eucceeded, after coneiderable weighing of the proe and cone, in picking the three girle whom I believe poeeese, to a greater degree than the othere, beauty, personality and charm. It was extremely difficult to arrive at a decision, but after having taken everything into coneideration, I have chosen the following three, in the order named:

1. Miee Martha Rugh
2. Miss Emily Jane Wood
3. Mise Lelah Curran

And of course you have a right to know why.

Miss Rugh -- because ehe possesses what to me is outetanding poiee, an air of good breeding, a clean profile, nice eyes, etraight nose and a genuine wholesomeness which leaves no other choice poesible for me.

Miss Wood -- because she is sensitive, lovely delicate featured, well-poised, and also possesses a certain almoet undefinable air of dietinction and good breeding that seems to be so essential to real beauty.

Miee Curran -- because she is sweet, charming and nicely set-up. Her head sets well, she has a beautiful line from her ear down to her finger tips, following the most beautiful arms it has been my pleasure to observe.

Congratulations to Jame's Millikin Univereity for having eeven of the most genuinely beautiful girle I've eeen in a long time, and best luck to the 1935 Millidek.

Cordially ...

Humor

How long, oh God, how long must we
Be cursed with the stupidity
Of grinding out, each year, all this
Darned yearbook-humor business?
And yet it has its bright side, too,
For it's a cinch that we may do
Just anything—and then some more
(With no aid from the editor.)
So that is why we're straying far
From ye olde tyme calendar
And are instead, for good clean fun,
Writing a poem for everyone.
Now if we chance to take a crack
At you, like shooting in the back,
Just grin and bear it, no harm done—
This, after all, is good clean fun
(Which ceases, when it's good and clean,
To be fun. And you know what we mean.)
And now we think we'll close with couplets for today;
Register complaints to E. J. W., F. K., and J. E. A.

O, see the funny senior,
Do you s'pose he's really out?
Perhaps he's in, perhaps he's off . . .
There's still some room for doubt.
He's now gone through the grinder
To the tune of papa's money.
He has lapped up text and dogma—
Has he come out wiser, kinder?
Where the freshman said "Baloney,"
Now the senior says, "Balogna!"

When Everett Schlie first came to school,
He got each lesson, obeyed each rule;
As a pledge he was obedient, meek,
Dating Alpha Chi as becomes a Teke.
Our chances would seem somewhat slim
To take a crack or two at him.
But as a senior he changed his mind,
Became the non-conforming kind:
Our thanks to him are most heart-felt
For Prom-ing with Weesner of Tri-Delt!

Do we believe in miracles?
We will until we die!
Because of Rosie Moorehead,
And we will tell you why:
For four long years she made four point,
Found time to go to the Blue Mill joint,
Took care of the Pi Phi's money bank,
Became an actress of first rank,

WHAT IS A BANK?

To many it may be merely a substantial building on Main Street; to others, an impressive array of figures; to others, a group of officers and employees engaged in rendering public service.
This bank is an institution which through a combination of strength, experience and well-managed bank connections, is enabled to extend to its customers, a complete banking service.

The National Bank of Decatur

Joined up to bureau News, verse-speak,
And dated at least six times a week.
She edited, besides, the Millidek
Which makes most people a total wreck.
She is the marvel of her friends
For burning the candle at both ends.
But, alas, she has gained no astronomy knowledge;
Says she: "I've got nothing out of college!"

According to Murfin, the Pres.,
English causes him lots of distress.
Though he studies with vim,
His chances are dim;
They flunk him with greatest success.

Catherine Carey got her fill
Of going to classes, as seniors will;
Then Beaumont came, and with him, love.
Her fourth year studies have been those of
Sweet nothings, with breakfast, in the Mill.

Walt Spilman used to make a break
Each time he'd ask if Frances Lake
Would let him take her to a show;
Poor Walter didn't seem to know
That (though at school she's fancy free)
She was pledged to Sanks, of S. A. E.
So Walter, never long dolorous
Sought out and captured Bobbie Morris.
(Hey, Walt! Is there something in this for us?)

Sing hi-de-ho for Requarth
(Her first name is Pauline)
She's been an English major
And the Pi Phis' prexy Queen.
She now goes forth on life's hard path;
May her fortunes e'er be bigger,
Though we can't see how she could fail
With that Greek Goddess figger!

Right now our most private peculiar plight is
To find a few rhymes for Joe Rolinaitis.
We could use a disease, such as spinal meningitis,
Or, from an athletic angle, there's always neuritis.
But it gets us nowhere, and it doesn't requite us;
So we'll leave it: Our own peculiar plight is
To find a few rhymes for Joe Rolinaitis.

We'll bake a cake for Sally Baker,
We think she has what it takes to make her
A librarian of the first degree.
For many hours each day, you see,
She works in the Gorin library;
And though she sings the praises of dear Delta Delta Delta,
Eugenia Allin's, after all, her safest sacred shelta.

DATE

It's seven o'clock. Two hours to wait!
Excited, she goes to get dressed for her date.
Which shall it be, the black or the green?
Or, the new lame blouse . . . it's spink-spanking clean.
She luxuriates, bathing, in suds and thick steam,
Then dusts with a cloud of "Egyptian Dream."
Then smooth satin undies and sheerest of hose,
And foundation cream on cheeks, forehead and nose;
Rouge, powder, and eye-shadow she deftly applies,
Then draws her lips carefully in Joan Crawford size.
She works with each hair for a careless effect;
Then studies it, neck craned, for any defect.
Perfume in a dab on throat, temples and ears . . .
"Anne, dear, you haven't looked nicer in years!"
But golly, it's just barely eight-fifteen!
She settles herself with a new magazine.
At nine the door opens. Mom lets Jimmy in.
"You young folks! So late for your night to begin!
I'll call Anne."
But surely you all know the rest:
"Okay, Mom! Hi, Jimmy! I'm just not quite dressed!"

INJUSTICE

Why is there a privileged few?
Why can't it be equal and fair?
Why can't we all be the same?
Why can't we all have red hair?

Judge: "Now, tell us about your marital relations. Were they pleasant?"
Prisoner: "They were pleasant enough, Judge, but they all came and wanted to live on me."

Here lies the body of William Jay
Who died maintaining the right of way.
He was right, dead right, as he sped along,
But he's just as dead as if he was wrong.

And then there was the sweet young Theta U who was taking an examination for a driver's license, and was asked: "What would you do if your brakes suddenly failed to hold, while you were going down a steep hill?" She hesitated only a moment, then smiled brightly and answered: "Why, that's easy; I'd just jump out and put a big stone under the wheel!"

Elmer Fawley sent this note to the advertising manager of a cigarette company: "You've induced the girls to smoke cigarettes; now see if you can't persuade them to buy some."

Professor Raab held up a copy of Rodin's famous statue before his class, and asked if anyone knew the name of it. Little Johnny Heinlein answered brightly: " 'The Thinker'." "And do you know why it was called that?" "Sure," replied Johnny. "He went swimmin', and is tryin' to remember where he left his clothes."

DEFINITIONS

Boy: A noise with dirt on it.
Jealousy: The friendship one woman has for another.
Home: The place in which we are treated the best and grumble most.

We sing to Bob Gebhart and fame
For he's the one loafer with claim
To waste all his time
In the Supply Store—a crime
Unless one is concerned with "Love and a Dime"
And a gal, Sue Matthews by name.

We sing the praise of Katherine Stadler
Who swooned them all as Hedda Gabler;
Was a perfect Madame Boucicault;
As Camille caused big salt tears to flow;
By sheer ability made the Shrew
As tamed as Shakespeare would have her do.
But wait! We're going to stop right here
And declare for Kate a big ovation.
She began at the first of her senior year
To take fifteen hours of education!

Ed Clauter, with evident EEEEEE
Keeps up a fine average of BBBBB:
But his phfft with his lips
Drives sane men into fits
For which he deserves endless DDDDD.

Cynthia Maud Alice (Conklin to you)
Has finally decided just what she will do
When her school days are gone, and she's out on her own
She has signed for, and taken, each dull, stuffy-ology
And what's more, she loves them all dearly, by-golly-gy.
But without inhibition
She'll fulfill an ambition
By putting the price of her former tuition
To the perfection of whiffle-board-ology!

The accomplishments of Mildred Langbehn
Have been "The Swan" and "Christopher Behn."
But other conquests, those unsehn,
Have been great . . . and masculehn.

There once was a guy named Al Weiss
Whose pencil and brush works were nice.
His drawings Mae Westian
Were most un-Dean Hess-ian
And he was accused of vice.

She plays the fiddle,
She plays the drum;
But after June she will play none;
'Cause by September
She'll not remember
What four years of college have done.
Always true blue
Will be Martha Rugh.
And she won't have any baking to do!

LINDQUIST STUDIOS

Decatur, Ill.

To Betsy A. we do sing praise,
A campus leader, no doubt.
After six long years in a college daze
The seventh finds her out.

In cloistered halls the students pray
For it is graduation day;
They do not want the school to burn
And that is what they wait to learn—
Whether the faculty, in consolation,
Will approve the graduation
Of a perennial member
Who every September
Had fervently announced his intention
Of ending his year of retention.
    It would be such a shame
    To place, on him, the blame,
    For the total destruction
    Of a school of instruction.
At last the worried students hear
That they need not retain their fear;
For Millikin's noble trustees
And faculty, by painful degrees
Will graduate Munsie (by a new rule)
And will not have to burn the school!

There once was a senior named Sanks
Who said to another guy, Eubanks:
    "Four years I have tried,
    I have strived, dug and lied,
And 's no use, I'm still in the ranks!"
Said Al Eubanks
To Harold Sanks:
    "My friend, do not fret—
    You may pass English yet—
And then the whole school will give thanks!"

Wayne Schroeder, now let me see!
    Is the guy—oh, yes! It's he
Who helps the frosh with biologe
And is indispensable to Doc. F. C.
And now that Wayne's college days are through,
    What will Dr. Hottes do?

Berkeley knows all about electricity
Yet he gets two lines of cheap publicity!

Little Johnny Heinlein—
How are all your Holstein?

With Hazel Nichols we had a hard time;
Her last name's a hard one to rhyme.
    After much confusion
    We reached a conclusion:
From now on, her name's Hazel Dime!

To Ralph Yeakley we sing a hymn
For all his philosophical vim;
Though he has been here
For just two years,
He'll swim from these halls in our tears!

The Doakes' older daughter, Mary Louise,
Sailed through her four years with a little less ease;
But 'twas from 'ppendicitis
And not neglectitis
Though we often accused her of cutting-class-itis
Caught from her sisters, the Alpha Cheese.

Harvey lived in Dayton
For eighteen years, I guess. And then
He lighted out for Millikin.
Four years he was of the lettermen,
Then four years more of going to class,
And two of loafing, more or less;
And now he's going—such sadness!
Goo' bye, Harvey!

Marianne Williams
Has trudged up the hilliams
Of French and of English
And musical trilliams;
So without further frilliams
We'll dip in our quilliams
And write of the fame
Of Marianne Williams!

With rings on his fingers
And on his toes, bells—
May few be the woes
Of one Arthur Wells.

Dorothy Sullivan's a very fine lassie—
For four hundred weeks she cut nary a classie;
Therefore, no instructors she had to appease,
And she sailed through four years with
The greatest of ease!

Dorothy Bayless (who sings like a bird)—
Her songs in chapel no more will be heard;
Against her demeanor we can't say a word,
So to go on with this would be rather absurd.

There was a Maronto named Rosemarie
Whose enthusiasms reached the nth degree,
Pope, Shelley and Gray,
Racine, Rabelais,
Aristotle, Plato,
Santiana and Poe,
Matthew Arnold and Clough—
Migawd, that's enough!
Those dead guys don't mean any love-life to me!

Good Clean Fun

("Which ceases, when it's good and clean,
To be fun. And you know what we mean.")

The road in front of this institution of higher learning was at one time in deplorable condition. One day a meeting was held to determine what should be done about it. After all evidence had been heard, the chairman of the board, in a polite manner, said: "From all reports, I'd say the road was fairly good, taken as a whole."
"True," said the spokesman for the complainants, "but we want to use it as a road, not as a hole."

THE SAD STORY OF WILLIAM WRIGHT

Bill had a billboard, Bill also had a board bill. The board bill Bill had bored Bill, so that Bill sold the billboard to pay his board bill. So after Bill sold his billboard to pay his board bill the board bill no longer bored Bill.

Dr. Luther Marshall: "Pardon me. You look like Helen Black."
Justine: "Yes, I know I do, but I'd look worse in white."

Pritch: "How do you like the new goblets we have at the house?"
Lois Crawford: "Goblets? Why, I always thought goblets were sailors' children!"

Lewie Britton took his smiling Jeanette to a fashionable restaurant. The bill of fare was in French, and Lewie pointed to an item on it and said huskily: "We'll begin with that."
"Sorry, sir," said the waiter, "but the orchestra is playing that." Then he handed him a napkin. Lewie looked at it carefully, frowned, got up, spread it on his chair and sat on it. The waiter, taking pity on him, said, "Will you have the table d'hote or a la carte, sir?"
"Both," said our Lewie, coughing. "Both with plenty of gravy!"

"It's a fine day," said the barber.
"It is," agreed little Bobbie Linn, about to be shaved.
There was a long silence. The barber tried again.
"What are your views on the political situation in this old country of ours?"
"The same as yours," answered Bob, meekly.
"Look here!" exclaimed the barber. "How on earth do you know what my opinions are?"
"I don't," said Bob. "But you have the razor!"

Brooks: "Did you ever speak before a large audience, Willard?"
Canode: "Why, yes—I think I did, once."
Brooks: "What did you say?"
Canode: "If I remember rightly, I said 'Not guilty'."

Dr. Boyer: "Dan, who defeated the Philistines?"
Hallihan: "Aw, I don't know—I don't follow those bush league teams."

Roberta Beck: "Pledge, just look at this table. Why, I can write my name in the dust!"
Pledge Wiley: "It must be wonderful. I wish I was educated."

W. A., pinned under his car after an accident, was being questioned by a policeman.
"Married, Mr. Dipper?"
"No," answered W. A., "This is the worst fix I was ever in."

"I'm very disappointed in the way your son Jimmie talks. Only today he said: 'I ain't never went nowhere'."
Jimmy's father: "He ain't ain't he? Why, the young whelp's done traveled twicet as far as most kids his age."

A junk shop near a railroad crossing in Denver carries a sign with this coy hint to motorists: "Go ahead; take a chance. We'll buy the car."

In an eating place between here and Chicago there is a placard on the wall which reads: "Don't make fun of our coffee. You may be old and weak yourself, some day!"

Ed Schroeder, lolling on the Supply Store counter: "Have you a book in stock called, 'Man, the Master'?"
Sue Matthews: "Sorry. We don't carry fiction."

Mr. Mills: "Well, I guess I don't expect to see you here again, Wallace. We'll miss you."
Munsie: "Not see me again, Mr. Mills? Why, you aren't going to resign, are you?"

Miss Biggs: "What is the definition of flirtation?"
Brilliant freshman: "It is attention without intention."

Bud Lewis: "Gotta cigarette?"
Newton: "Sure."
Bud: "Gotta match?"
Newton: "Good gosh, you didn't bring along anything but the habit, did you?"

Mary Louise (to mother who had been lecturing her about going back to college): "All right, Mother, I'll take that post-graduate course. I'm still vague about forward passes."

Joe Gauger: "Now, if I subtract 25 from 37, what's the difference?"
Eddy Ritscher: "Yeah! That's what I say. Who cares?"

Herman Mehmken had never seen his grandmother, so when she arrived for a visit he asked: "So you're my grandmother, are you?"
"Yes," replied the old lady, "on your father's side."
Herman sighed. "Well, I'll tell you right now, you're on the wrong side!"

The man who sings his own praises is quite likely to be a soloist.

Nancy: "Would you marry a man for his money?"
Louise: "Not exactly. But I'd want my husband to have a good disposition, and if he didn't have money he'd very likely be worried and ill-natured!"

Lib Mills: "And did you see the Everglades in Florida?"
Cynthia: "We called on them, but they weren't at home."

While it may rain on the just and unjust alike, the latter usually has a chauffeur to come and get him, while the former has to walk in it, and furthermore has holes in his shoes!

Catherine Anne (looking over house plan): "What's this thing going to be?"
Architect: "That's an Italian staircase."
C. A.: "Just a waste of money. We probably won't ever have any Italians coming to see us."

Laugh at yourself, and you've conquered life.
